the commander of the Garfield post of this city to place in each school room a flag of our country is most commendable. All the teachers of our city schools recognize that one of the chief objects of their daily work with the children is to train them to citizenship. The flag ever present and be fore the eyes of the children will greatly aid the teachers in instilling lessons patriotism. From it such lessons may be drawn as will give them some appreciation of the price of liberty and the value of our free institutions. Besides the children should be taught to show special respec to the brave soldiers who are members of Grand Army of the Republic whenever and wherever recognized. This beautiful and significant gift from the members of this post will aid in inspiring respect and love, not only for the brave men who sac rificed so much for country, but for the grand results of their heroic deeds. The eachers, likewise, will be encouraged by this gift, for they will feel that behind them is a mighty power which will aid them in their efforts to give such instruction as will prepare both girls and boys for the duties of citizenship.

The letter is emphatic enough to satisfy our people of the good will of the consoli-dated, even if its officers were not directly interested in the good name of Wichita, which they are, several of whom having become so well convinced of Wichita's great future that they bought quite large holdings here. But not until we saw Gen ernI Swain's letter did we know that a majority of that powerful corporation had made individual investments in Wichita The improvements alluded to in Genera Swain's letter have already been put under contract and Colonel Weitzel says that they are quite extensive. # NEWYORK-STORE.

Have just returned from our second trip this spring to New York in search of Novelties.

They are on the way, every express and every fast freight brings us something new for our different departments. Our store is crowded with new goods.

Every one that has patronized our dress making department is more than pleased with our fashicnable modiste.

P. S. Our long walk up Fifth avenue last Easter Sunday has convinced us that we are showing the correct styles in dress
